FURTHER LOSS OF AMERICANS DEEMED AS 'UNFRIENDLY' ACT

Discussion of Principles Abruptly to End: New Note Will Be Firm Avowal

PRESIDENT'S ACTION IS FINAL

New Transgression Will Sever Relations Between the Two Nations, Is Belief

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The United States has decided to inform Germany that further loss of American lives as the result of German submarine warfare in contravention of the principles of international law will be regarded as an "unfriendly act." The discussion of principles is virtually ended. The American government will now warn Germany of the interpretation it will place on future transgressions of American rights.

In the new note the United States assumes that Germany already has admitted the principle that passengers must be removed to a place of safety before destroying an unwilling merchantman as a prize.

Taking the position, therefore, that the two governments are agreed in principle, the United States views it as incumbent upon Germany to make her submarine practice conform with the accepted principles of international law.

Any deviation in actual practice resulting in the loss of American lives, it is pointed out, would be viewed as an unfriendly act. The action which the United States might subsequently take is not indicated, but in diplomatic usage the phrase "unfriendly act" has always carried with it an implication of finality leading often to a severance of friendly relations.

Officials generally were secretive concerning the treatment of the Lusitania case in the new note, but it was believed that the request for separation would be repeated, and this issue kept before the two governments as a subject of first importance in their future relations.

RAISER'S PLAN REJECTED.—

The note will reject Germany's proposals that American vessels be given complete immunity when not carrying contraband and for the transfer to American registry of four belligerent vessels for trans-Atlantic traffic, provided they did not carry contraband.

Again the American government will reiterate its willingness to act as an intermedium in adjusting the interests of belligerents on the high seas, but will make clear that so far as American rights are concerned they are not to be confounded with the practices of reprisals of one belligerent against another.

The note probably will be finished tomorrow or Friday. Cabinet officers believed today it would be unnecessary to discuss it at another cabinet meeting, and predicted that the communication would surely be on its way to Berlin by Friday at the latest.

CANNERY MEN DEMAND WORK FOR WHITES ONLY

By Associated Press.
BELLINGHAM, Wash., July 21.—At a mass meeting at Anacortes, 20 miles south of here, and a big salmon cannery center, last night a demand was made on cannery men to discharge at once 100 Japanese laborers and give their places to whites. The cannery men said they told the men they could be run out of town if the demands were refused. One cannery man interviewed by a committee said he would not pay any attention to the demand, as he made his contracts last fall for Japanese help, and that they were doing a class of work whites would not do. Trouble is feared and deputy sheriffs were hurried there to prevent it.

ACTRESS ASSIGNS CLAIM TO MOTHER

Gerritina Forbes-Robertson, of Kent, England, following the action of her sister, Maxine Elliott, has made an assignment of her claims in the estate of her father, the late Thomas D. Stannard, in favor of her mother, Mrs. Isabella Payne Dermot of Ninth avenue.

Mrs. Robertson is the wife of the famous English actor, who visited Oakland a year ago. Maxine Elliott was also in Europe, from which place she recently forwarded an assignment of her interests in her father's estate.

ABOUT PANAMA CANAL

"I have a very strong feeling about the Panama Canal," said Col. Roosevelt, in beginning his speech. "I want my fortune to take the action in 1912, failure to take which, in exactly the shape I took it, would have meant that no Pan-American canal would have been built for half a century, and that there would have been no exception to the general building of the canal. In everything we did in connection with the acquiring of the canal, we did it in a way to do absolute justice to all other nations, especially the adjacent states, and to render the utmost service to the standard of living and of material interest to the United States, and that this is the fairest taint upon our title or our conduct. It would have been an improper and shameful thing to hold this exposition."

Before the divorce case was commenced Mrs. Molera and Terramorse were indicted by the federal grand jury in San Francisco and officers were sent East for them. Mrs. Molera obtained her liberty there upon technicalities, but the matter was later straightened out and she was rearrested.

DAUGHTER STILL IN ARMS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Mrs. Fe Molera arrived at the San Francisco city prison carrying in her arms her infant daughter, Fe, aged 3 months. After being booked at the city prison she was promptly liberated on bonds furnished by her attorney, Gilbert D. Boalt, and her case will come up next week before Commissioner Judge Griffin. She is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child and was indicted in the Superior Court, together with Frank Terramorse, who is already in the city prison.

For thirty-one days, in the metropolis, Mrs. Molera battled against extradition, but was finally forced to make the journey to California.

"There is absolutely nothing to this charge," said Attorney Boalt this morning. "The statement that Mrs. Molera and Terramorse were living together is false. They went to New York separately. Terramorse is an actor and contemplated going on the stage as a partner of Mrs. Molera. That is all the charge amounts to."

Molera, whose home is in Alameda, is a salesman for the Italian-Swiss colony of this city and at the time of the returning of the indictment resided at the Terminal hotel here.

Riot Occurs at Bayonne Plant of Standard Oil Company.

uniformed police of Bayonne. Part of this force, under personal command of Inspector Cady, was guarding the approaches to the main gates of the plant which was attacked today. Several of the police were mounted and they, with the inspector, bore the brunt of the fight. When the rioters had broken through the gates back and forward, some of them were hit with stones and pieces of slag. Shots were fired also at the police and they fired volleys over the heads of the crowd. It halted the attack only a moment and then the order was given to move and aim low.

The police believe that many injured were carried away. Three wounded men were sent as prisoners to the hospital. Two are wounded in the legs and the others in the right arm.

The rioters finally gave way before the police fire and did not re-attack.

At the plant of the Standard Oil Company, Gifford of the plant reported today that the company would listen to any request or demand of its employees, but had received none. The strike, he said, had been fomented by outsiders.

BECKER MAKES HIS LAST PLEA FOR LIFE

Appeal to Governor Says "Big Tim" Sullivan Was Rosenthal's Backer

By Associated Press.
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 21.—Strikes resulted today in machineists throwing down their tools in a number of Bridgeport shops and walking out.

They claimed that they had taken 110 additional men from two plants doing work for the Remington Arms and Ammunition company; that pickets had succeeded in breaking out workers from work at the main plant of the Remington concern, that 100 men on the night shift at the Union Metallic Cartridge company had gone on strike, and that during the noon lunch hour hundreds of men on the day shift would quit. They estimated this forenoon that nearly 500 skilled machineists were now on strike.

They reiterated their statement that there would be a picket line set up at war munition factories by Saturday.

DISORDER IS NEAR.

Disorder seemed imminent twice today; once at the New Kensington plant and once outside the works of a contractor making machine tools for the Remington company. Dirt wagons, driven two abreast, cleared the road in front of the first-named plant. The police, according to an official communication, dispersed the workers and some sympathizers there after they had made a demonstration against the men who remained at work.

The labor leaders asserted that 25 more guards at the Remington plant had gone on strike for money to buy. Fifteen were said to have walked out yesterday.

Shortly before noon a large crowd of machineists gathered at the headquarters in the center of the city and formed into

They then started to march to the Union Metallic Cartridge plant on the outskirts of the city. The men in the parade, according to the leaders, were to start a demonstration in front of the plant, and if necessary, the men would do picket duty. All the men in the parade were strikers, it was said.

CONFER WITH GOMPERS.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—Officials of trade unions interested in the strike at the Remington Arms plant at Bridgeport, Conn., met here today with Samuel Gompers, president of the A. F. of L., but reached no conclusion on what course to pursue and adjourned to meet again Friday morning in Bridgeport.

Keser's Body Found in Ocean, Reported

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—A cable message received here last night told of the body of Harry J. Keser, a former vice-president of the victims of the Lusitania disaster. Positive identification, the cablegram stated, was made of the body, which had been washed by the tides around Pasture Rock and upon the coast of Kerry.

The body of Mrs. Keser, who also perished when the ship sank, was one of the first recovered and sent back to this country.

ROSE'S STOOL PIGEON.

Becker explains his association with Jack Rose by saying that his only interest was in maintaining Rose's usefulness as a "stool pigeon" in securing evidence against gambling houses. He tells of the partnership existing between Rose and Rosenthal in a gambling house until after he had a difference and became estranged. It was while gambling house that Becker connects the name of "Big Tim." Sullivan, Becker makes it plain that he did not understand at any time that Sullivan was Rosenthal's partner, but that the senator simply had loaned Rosenthal money with which to equip the gambling house.

After Rosenthal's place had been closed the gambler published an article charging that Becker was the real owner of a chattel mortgage on the gambler's furniture.

Becker declares he had little fear of this charge, but that Senator Sullivan, fearing the possible results of Rosenthal's campaign, called Becker into a conference which Rose attended, and said that Rosenthal must be induced to leave town.

Becker declared that this could not be done, as it was necessary to his position in the police department that Rosenthal's statement be faced and be proved. To this he said Sullivan replied.

"Where a fire of this kind is started there is no knowing where it will reach. Rosenthal has already been very close to me politically and personally, so once in election time, they might make me a scapegoat."

Becker replied that so far as he was concerned, Rosenthal's disappearance would be fatal, as it would be suspected that Becker had committed it. Thereupon Sullivan said, according to Becker, that whatever happened in the row between Becker and Rosenthal, he wanted the lieutenant to promise never to mention the fact that Sullivan had spoken to him about letting Rosenthal open this place.

$25,000 FOR SILENCE.

Becker says that Sullivan expressed warm appreciation of his attitude, and added:

"I would give $25,000—yes, $25,000—to have prevented this thing, or stop it now if I can."

Becker says he did not pay much attention to the remark, but that on the way home Rose said,

"I wonder if the big fellow really has that much money at hand, if he needs to use it."

Rose added something to the effect that he (Rose) could easily raise any money needed to get Rosenthal away, whereupon Becker declared that this must not be done.

"Nothing more was ever said about Tim Sullivan putting up money to get Rosenthal away," said Becker.

Becker says that, on the day following, nothing occurred to increase his apprehension of Rosenthal. This was the day

Official War Statements

FRENCH

By Associated Press.
PARIS, via London, July 21.—The full text of the war department's communication follows:

In arms the night was marked by a bombardment in the vicinity of Neuville and from Neuville.

"Squadron was bombed during the night."

"In the forest of Armentières the enemy attacked our position at the town of Neuville and at the Vaux Ferry and were completely repulsed."

"In the villages there were very intense actions yesterday afternoon and last night on the heights overlooking the eastern side of the valley of the Peene. From the north we observed possession of part of the German defensive work in the direction of the village of Neuville."

"A squadron from rehauzen to London and back again."

"Thirty-eight aviators yesterday bombarded the station of Conflans in Carnay."

"The engine was struck by a 100 millimeter shell directly on the station. The engine was destroyed and the aviator was captured."

"Three other aviators were sent to fight."

"Two of our aeroplanes yesterday bombarded Colmar Station in Upper Alsace, four shells on 155 millimeters and four on 90 millimeters fell on the tracks."

"That portion of the French official statement telling of a raid of 35 aviators on the station of Conflans, although the wording is somewhat ambiguous, seems to refer to the operations of a French squad of airmen on German lines of communication."

"The Contests referred to apparently is Conflans-en-Jarnisy, which is in the French Department of Meurthe-et-Moselle near the Loraine border."

"Right before his retreat, but it is pointed out here that such an extended Austrian line may have contained weak points, against which a counter move might be made in the hope of saving the town of Triest."

"Military writers assert that the presence of only Landrova troops in the German lines indicates the central powers are

"exerting every resource to crush the Russians."

OFFICIALS FLEE FROM RIGA

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 21, via London, 11:45 a.m.—A dispatch to the Loyal Anziger from Chernovitz, capital of Bukowina, reports heavy fighting along the Lainsitz river near the Bukowina-Galicia border. The Russians brought up reinforcements and made determined attempts to retake positions on the left bank of the river which had been captured by the Austrians. They were supported by heavy artillery, but the dispatch says, their attacks gained them nothing.

"Along the Bessarabian front also the Russians are on the offensive, having made desperate attacks during the last four nights. They succeeded in breaking into the Austrian positions in one place, but the attacking forces subsequently were captured and held as prisoners. The men were unable to make good.

"The battle of Monastir last night lasted six hours, during which the Vikings. In Russia a skeleton on the breast of which lay a stone hatchet was uncovered.

The men dismantled were as follows:

Assistant Sanitary Inspector Joseph G. Bliven, $100 a month; John G. Foley, $100 a month; William J. Pool, $100 a month; Louis E. Jackson, $100 a month; Allen W. Sunier, $100 a month; Plumbing Inspectors John D. Barr, $1500 a year, and Albert Corban, $1500 a year, and Albert Corban, $1500 a year.

The appointments made today were as follows:

Deputy plumbing and sanitary inspectors, William Omilia and H. L. Lase, $100 a month each; George W. Saake, $100 a month.

DEPARTMENT REMODELED.

The health department has been completely reorganized by Commissioner Jackson and is in the Department of Health, the medical government, that the severest test of the efficiency of the new administration will be made.

Health Director A. P. Gilligan, who was dismissed from the city service yesterday, was a trained medical officer who "had a rigid civil service examination on the basis of tests prepared by a committee of local physicians."

Dr. A. Archibald, who was also dismissed, was known as an experienced food and market inspector. Dr. Pauline Nusbaumer, former city bacteriologist, was recognized as an expert in this work.

Stewart Gimbel, formerly the plumb-

"ing spector of the city, has spent years in this work and had planned out much of the present sewer system of the city.

The new men who have taken control of these departments have been appointed on the judgment of Dr. Jackson, the commissioner of public health and safety.

They are as follows:

R. R. M. Higgins, health officer;

D. P. A. Hill, city veterinarian and assistant health officer; Joseph F. Francis, sanitary inspector; A. M. Thompson, market and food inspector, and John H. Eustice, plumbing inspector.

COLLEGE GRADUATES.

Dr. Higgins is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco and Dr. Musser a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore. Both have been engaged in general practice.

R. M. Higgins, health officer;

D. P. A. Hill, city veterinarian and assistant health officer; Joseph F. Francis, sanitary inspector; A. M. Thompson, market and food inspector, and John H. Eustice, plumbing instructor.

DRIVES INTO SWEEPER.

A man whose identity has been kept secret drove into a street sweeper operated by Frank March at San Pablo Avenue and Market Street.

The auto was slightly damaged. The driver refused to give his name.

DE YOUNG TO SPEAK.

M. H. De Young, who has been affiliated with several world fairs, will be the luncheon speaker of the Commercial Club on July 27. He will tell of expositions and the after effects of expositions.

MINERS END BIG STRIKE IN WALES

YANKEE CITY ON CHINESE SHORES

Lloyd-George Thanks Men; "Fight Common Enemy," He Says.

By Associated Press
LONDON, July 21.—The South Wales coal miners have accepted the terms agreed upon yesterday and the strike therefore is definitely at an end.

Throughout the coal fields there was an overwhelming majority in favor of the settlement.

Work in the mines will be resumed at once. Both sides have promised the government to exert every effort to make up for the week of idleness.

David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, to whose efforts the end of the strike is largely due, appeared in the conference hall in Cardiff after the decision had been reached, and received an enthusiastic welcome. President Winston of the Miners' Federation declared that Mr. Lloyd-George and his colleagues had performed a great service for the miners of the empire, who were now prepared to do everything possible to bring the war to a speedy termination.

THANKS MEN.

Mr. Lloyd-George addressed the miners, expressing sincere joy that the men had decided to go to work with him and his colleagues "to fight the common enemy." He added: "We are prepared to do everything possible to bring the war to a speedy termination."

LEASES FRANCE'S NEED.

The coal fields of France are now in the hands of the army. France depends upon us for coal. Five vessels from France lie in Cardiff harbor waiting for their bunkers to be filled, and I am going to ask you to make up for lost time and show the democracy of France that you are prepared to assist her in the struggle for the freedom of the world."

POSING AS WIDOW, WOMAN GETS COIN

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, July 21.—A woman who described herself as Mrs. Zora Emma Flager, 50 years old, was held in $5000 bail for examination Friday by Magistrate McQuade today, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The complainant, Frank J. Mahoney, swore on an affidavit that he had paid $500 to the woman after she had represented that she, as the widow, was soon to receive $15,000,000 from the estate of the late Harry M. Flager, millionaire railroad builder.

Lawrence C. Haines, representing the Flager estate, was in court and in an affidavit, swore that the woman's representations were false and that she was not the widow of the deceased financier.

DRAGGED FOR BLOCKS BY WHEELS OF TRAIN

A man believed to be John Foran, a San Francisco teamster, was cut to pieces last night by the 10:30 Western Pacific freight train near Eighth and Cedar streets. It is thought that he was attempting to steal a ride and that he fell from one of the cars.

The body was frantically mangled, having been dragged beneath the wheels for over a block. The remains were removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.

The only means of identification was a card found in the pocket, indicating that the deceased was John Foran, a member of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 55, of San Francisco. Inquiry will be made today among Foran's friends to see whether the body can be identified.

FRIENDS SEE WEDDING.

Arthur A. Templeman, a well-known cafe man of Berkeley, and Miss Cecile G. Gould of Berkeley, were married last night in the presence of many friends and relatives. They will make their home in Emeryville, where the groom has been engaged in business for many years.

MAUD ALLAN

Refusing in years past all offers to be shown upon the screen, Maud Allan, the noted exponent of classical and interpretative dancing, was returning to London after a "sensationally successful eighteen months' tour of Australia, India and the Far East, when she lingered just long enough on the Pacific coast to be captured by one of the largest American moving picture producers, the vehicle for which they have chosen to star Maud Allan in "The Rue Makers' Daughter," which may be described as a stirring romance of the American-Turkish Turk trade. Maud Allan opens a four-day engagement at the Oakland Photo Theater, starting today. That Maud Allan was all this time a brilliant actress as well as the inspired danseuse whom the whole world knows from her "Antarina Dance" from Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite," for her "Moonlight Sonata" from Beethoven, for her "Spring Song" from Chopin, and for many others, has been proven beyond all doubt in Maud Allan's first appearance in motion pictures. The added feature of the program is a film version of the famous song classic, "Always in the Way," by Charles K. Harris.

Moose 'Wets' May Muzzle Bryan

SPLIT IMPENDS IN CONVENTION

By Associated Press
SAN DIEGO, July 21.—If William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, makes prohibition an issue, or pleads for its adoption, in his speech at the annual convention of the Loyal Order of Moose here today, a suit between the "wet" and "dry" advocates in the order is threatened, according to report. Bryan has consented to deliver an address before the Moose, and to-night, a report that the former secretary would urge prohibition, caused much discussion among the thousands of delegates at the convention.

It is asserted by the anti-prohibitionists that should Bryan in his address make a plea for prohibition they will object to continuation of his speech.

While the discussion concerning Bryan's address is waxing warm, Pittsburgh is making a determined bid for the 1917 convention. Each alternate year the Moose convention is held at Mooseheart, Illinois.

There will be a general relaxation among the delegates tomorrow, which is designated as Moose Day at the Panama-California Exposition. Parades, com-

CITY EXPERT FILES BRIEF IN DEFENSE

Civil Service Board Hears Grounds of Jordan to Keep Place

L. G. Jordan, city expert, who has appealed to the courts to prove to his own service standing as a fit place of the city against the action of the Civil Service Board, last night to be used as a basis for the reclassification of his office should this be deemed advisable.

"I am writing to you this evening to advise you that the letter I sent to the Civil Service Board on the 1st instant was read by the new administration in the following paragraph:

"Whatever it may seem wise to you to do in the matter of classifications of my office, let me at least express the hope that you have some adequate idea of the tremendous disturbance to be caused in so complex a machinery as that of our city government by the substitution of revolution for evolution. It is my opinion that the greatest good that can be done to our city is to keep the civil service as it is now, and that threatens still further to bring disaster on the community."

In his letter Jordan explained at length that he had performed expert service in the various departments and was a prior and claims agent. The position was left quite as much as can man-

SWISS MODEL FOR U. S. ARMY IS ADVICE ROOSEVELT GIVES

CALLS CANAL UNFORTIFIED PERILOUS

Belgium's Fate Held Up as a Warning to This Country Unless Prepared.

only, and exactly in proportion as it increased. Those who have not believed that the highest duty of this nation is to prepare itself against war so it may safely trust its honor and interest to its own resources and advocates more and more the policy of non-intervention in general interests what we have already done in Panama. Instead of acting as this nation did in the fall of 1903, we have continued to let the situation get worse and diplomatic notes, if in other words, had treated election as a substitute for action, we would have done nothing and good, and for the last twelve months, we have been the hearty derision of all other nations. The canal would not have been begun at the present day, and there would have been a general conclusion of the world to the effect that the effects of those were totally unfit to prevent any of the duties of international life especially in connection with the Western Hemisphere.

FAILED IN PREPAREDNESS.

"Unfortunately in the last few years we have been pretty much everything connected with the Lithmus of Panama, so failed in our duty of national preparedness that I fear there actually was a general conclusion of the world to the effect among the nations of the world as regards the United States at the present day. This is primarily due to our unpreparedness.

"But, by God, a culpably, well-nigh criminally, remiss as a nation in not preparing ourselves and if, with the lessons taught the world by the dreadful war of the last twelve months, we have continued with soft complacency to stand helpless and naked before the world, we shall excite only contempt and derision if it when comes to determine us."

"Preparedness against war does not invariably avert war, any more than a fire department in a city will invariably avert a fire, and there is no well-meaning fool who would point out that as an excuse for unpreparedness. It would be just as sensible if after the Chicago fire Chicago had announced that the world would be safe if the department at the time people took the same view as regards military preparedness. Some years ago I was looking over some very old papers, contemporaneous with the beginning of the war, and I found reports in this country and to my amazement, I came across a letter which argued against a paid fire department upon the ground that the knowledge of its existence would tend to make householders careless and therefore would encourage fire."

"Greece was not prepared for war when she went to war with Turkey in 1912. Turkey was not prepared for war. But this fact did not stop the war. It merely made the war unsuccessful for Greece. China was not prepared for war with Japan twenty odd years ago, but she was, and when she marched into Peking fifteen years ago.

"But the clearest teaching is conveyed in the experience of China and Belgium during the last year. As regards Belgium the lesson should be learned between it and Switzerland. The territory of Switzerland like the territory of Belgium lies between the great combatants. In the case of Belgium the path of entry to their combatants was the path of entry to themselves. A century ago, for instance, when Switzerland was utterly unprepared for war, the Napoleonic armies used it as a highway to march against France and South Germany. Absolutely the same fate would have been theirs now save for the vital fact that in the century intervening the Swiss people, having learned the lesson of the French, were thoroughly competent to defend themselves. They had a first-class citizen army of one-tenth the size of the French army. This army was rapidly mobilized and the Swiss brothers and in consequence Switzerland's territorial integrity was respected."

CARE OF BELGIUM.

"But Belgium, too, has now learned the lesson which Switzerland has learned. For forty years Belgium had been at peace and had achieved an extraordinary measure of industrial prosperity. Her people had done a wonderful job, but they have done. For many years they declined to prepare to defend themselves at all. It was confidently asserted that the days of Belgium were absolutely numbered. That nobody would invade her, and that her territory was threatened with invasion by the opinion of the civilized world could be easily prevented the carrying out of the threat. And so it was. Isolated out there were treaties absolutely guaranteeing Belgium against invasion. More it was explained. The Hague Convention, which we ourselves signed but which we immediately treated as scrapes of paper when the demand was made to show that our ally meant something—made the whole world contractors of Belgian territorial integrity."

"Curiously enough it was the distinct advantage of the party which finally became the dominant factor in insisting that a beginning should be made in preparing for defense. The beginning was made. But it was only a beginning. The overwhelming poor Belgium people who had barely entered on the path that Switzerland had so well."

"China offers an even more perfect parallel to the conditions to which in practice the portion of the unpacified world would lead us. Fifty years ago Japan and China occupied substantially the same positions as regards the world at large. The two lands abroad of the leading civilized nations of the world, progress having been on the same scale, more remarkable than that of any other nation down to history. This is not due to a lack of development of fighting efficiency for the fighting efficiency has shown that mere fighting efficiency, if it will not be a nation from front. But it is no less true that without fighting efficiency, and the same amount of efficiency amounts to a house built on sand. Japan's progress would have been absolutely impossible if it had not been progressing in fighting efficiency, especially as in industrial and social efficiency."

CHINA'S "ERROR."

"Thus, on the other hand, had for generations been trained to regard peace as the most desirable of ends, and to look down upon war and soldiers. She has acted on the theory that the world peace was better than the best war, and the best war was better than the evils of the worst war and the evils of war. The average Chinese took the view that China was too proud to fight and to practice the art of war. The hearty approval of the sentiment of the patriotic patriotic song, 'I Didn't Raise My Boy for a Soldier,' a song which shall be a panacea, piece one entitled 'I Didn't Raise My Boy for a Soldier.' Mother, approval of which course derived from the Battle hymn of the Republic: China was still obliged to prepare for war. Accordingly China has had province after province seized by her, until one half of her territories, the provinces of Manchuria, Shensi, Shantung and Fukien, controlled by the professional pacifists, the peace-at-any-price, non-resistance, unpacified arbitration people are now under Chinese rule. While the best people in China are gradually endeavoring to raise the new China to a position of international status and of national self-respect."

Says Nation Is Remiss Warns of China's Fate

"I firmly believe that there should be universal military service for our young men on the Swiss model. I advocate preparedness against war as the best type of peace insurance. Preparedness for war may be not only the best but the only corrective for the spirit of militarism. Switzerland is the most democratic of republics, and the least militaristic; and yet relatively to its size it is the one best prepared

"We have been culpably, well-nigh criminally, remiss as a nation in not preparing ourselves and if, with the lessons taught the world by the dreadful tragedies of the last twelve months, we continue with soft complacency to stand helpless and naked before the world, we shall excite only contempt and derision if and when disaster ultimately overwhelms us."

"Some day or other it may well be that we shall have to pay on a ten-fold greater scale the same price as Belgium for exactly the same reasons; and, if such should be the case, remember, my fellow countrymen, that whereas the case of the Belgians excited world sympathy, our misfortune would excite nothing but scorn and contempt; for a rich, powerful, boastful people invites the ridicule of all mankind if, whether from sheer silliness and short-sightedness, or from soft timidity, or from gross and greedy devotion to the material benefits of the moment, it fails to prepare itself to defend its own rights with its own strength."

"The professional pacifists, the peace-at-any-price, non-resistance, universal arbitration people are now seeking to Chinify this country. While the best people in China are doing their best to reduce this country to the level of impotence to which the old China has sunk—to which she has sunk primarily because for generations the moral fibre of the Chinese people has been closely eaten into by the doctrines of the professional pacifists, so that she has shown herself incapable during the last thirty years of preparing herself against war and for self-defense."

"The building of the canal nearly doubles the potential efficiency of the United States navy, as long as it is fortified and is in our hands; but if left unfortified, it would at once become a menace to us."—From Colonel Roosevelt's speech this afternoon at the exposition.

"Well-meaning people here are doing their best to bring the Swiss model of universal military service to the attention of the public to which she has sunk primarily because for generations the moral fibre of the Chinese people has been closely eaten into by the doctrines of the professional pacifists, so that she has shown herself incapable during the last thirty years of preparing herself against war and for self-defense."

"Probably the worst feature of our national life is the habit of using words with no relation to facts of making promises which are to be kept only when it suits our convenience or when it can be used as an adequate substitution for action. This habit has worked particular damage to us in international relations and among all nations. The arbitration of treaties, peace conventions and the like into which we have entered. We can accomplish nothing real for international peace unless we understand that the word given is to be kept, and therefore disgraceful not to do so. Our deeds square with our words, and therefore disgraceful to make a promise which we either ought not to or cannot keep."

ABOUT THE TREATIES.

"During the past year or so the nation has been engaged in the task of re-arranging our foreign policy, the path of entry to these combatants being the path of entry to themselves. A century ago, for instance, when Switzerland was utterly unprepared for war, the Napoleonic armies used it as a highway to march against France and South Germany. Absolutely the same fate would have been theirs now save for the vital fact that in the century intervening the Swiss people, having learned the lesson of the French, were thoroughly competent to defend themselves. ## BOTH WILL FIGHT MURDER CHARGE

Haynes Denies He Will Plead
Guilty to Bettencourt Slaying.

Instant of the charge of murder that was sworn to against him by the daughter of his alleged victim, Walter S. Haynes, who is charged partly with Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin of San Francisco with the murder of aged Manuel S. Bettencourt in Hayward last Sunday, declares that he has no intention of pleading guilty to the crime.

Haynes has retained Attorney J. W. Strode to defend him and he will be arraigned in Hayward later on this week.

"Haynes has told me practically the same story as he says he told to the district attorney," said Attorney Strode to

"He maintains his innocence and declares that he will not plead guilty. We are working on the case, preparing our defense and will make a statement.

For her part, Mrs. McLaughlin refuses to talk at all with the authorities. She has assumed a belligerent attitude and legal action has been taken against her.

Her attorney, Mr. McLaughlin, declared that she had nothing further to say.

When first taken to the county jail the woman prisoner was declared to be "the woman of the jail" and has shown little change except that she seems considerably wiser.

Attorney Marguerite Ogden Is Injured

Miss Marguerite Ogden, San Francisco attorney and daughter of Judge F. B. Ogden of Oakland, was thrown from a horse and painfully injured today while spending a vacation at the Ogden country home.

Miss Ogden, who was received by Mrs. Sayd Havens, office assistant of Miss Ogden, who is a law partner of Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, assistant United States attorney.

Miss Ogden's horse shied and ran into a fence. She was thrown forcefully to the ground, receiving a laceration of the chin and a sprain of the left arm.

Miss Ogden is known as a skilled equestrienne and rides considerably for recreation. Her condition is not serious, it is said, and her associates hope that she will return to the Lake county residence.

Toy Pistol Bandit in Jail; No Booty

With a toy pistol, Charles Richardson, a 15-year-old youth of Hayward, started out on a career of crime last night when he attempted to hold up Joe Vergas as he was entering his home.

Instead of complying with the orders of the hood-up man, Vergas ran to his wife, who had been awaiting his return and who saw the hold-up, ran out of the back door with the children and spread the alarm.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares was notified, and he took Richardson into custody as he was about to board a car for Oakland. Today he was brought to the county jail along with his toy pistol, which is being held as evidence against him. Richardson obtained nothing on his venture.

ROTARIANS TO HEAR HALF-HOUR OF MUSIC

A half hour of music at the Greek theater, University of California, as a special feature of the entertainment of the visiting Rotarians will be held tomorrow, when the Sierra Mixed Quartet, under the direction of Alexander Stewart, will appear. The affair will take place at 10:30 a. m., during the Rotarians' annual meeting.

The quartet, composed of Mrs. Zilpha Ruggles Jenkins, soprano; Mrs. Ruth W. Anderson, contralto; Carl E. Anderson, tenor, and Lowell Redfield, baritone, will be assisted by Miss Olive Reed, violinist, and Mrs. Mabel Hill Redfield, accompanist. The program is as follows:

GOVERNOR EXTENDS CLEMENCY.

SACRAMENTO. July 21.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson today commuted the sentence of Elv. Scott, who was sentenced to 14 years in San Quentin prison from Sonoma county in 1899. The commutation reduced the sentence to six years and thereby makes it possible for the state board of prison directors to extend it to Scott a parole.

RAISE CATTLE QUARANTINE.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 21.—The cattle sanitary board yesterday rescinded the order requiring the disinfection of cattle cars entering New Mexico. The order was promulgated last fall as the board's first step against the foot and mouth disease.

ROTARIANS TO BE OAKLAND GUESTS

3000 Visitors Will Attend the Day's Exercises Here Tomorrow.

Oakland will be host tomorrow to more than 3,000 Rotarians who are delegates to the International convention of the organization being held in San Francisco civic auditorium, when they will come in a special boat with members of their families and make the east side of the bay their official meeting place for the day.

It will be a big day for Oakland. The immediate hosts of the big crowd of visitors will be the members of the Oakland Rotary Club, who will entertain with banquets, musical festivals, automobile rides, sight-seeing trips and a half dozen other forms of amusement. In all of the day will be spent by the delegates in meeting in the municipal auditorium.

The entire party will come to Oakland on a special boat which will leave the ferry landing at San Francisco at 9 o'clock in the morning. Upon arrival in the city, the work of the party will be taken to the Greek theater on the State University campus, and after a half hour of music program. The delegates will adjourn immediately to the auditorium.

ELECTION TO LEAD.

The first order of business will be the election of officers. The polls will be open until 10:30 o'clock. Printed ballots will be distributed to the delegates on the boat. At 10 o'clock a meeting of the general committee will be held by International Rotarian Mulligan. The committee will elect a board of directors.

V. O. Lawrence, president of the Oakland Rotary Club, will deliver an address of welcome. The response will be made by President Mulligan. The next order of business will be the reading of the report of the committee on public affairs, while W. C. Johnson, an expert from Texas, is the chairman. Charles G. Heifer of Seattle will speak on "Rotary's Province and Limitations in Civics and Charities." "Rotary's Relation to the

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR REMOVERS ARE DANGEROUS

Don't Use Poisonous So-Called Superfluous Hair Removers.

You may escape permanent injury if you use so-called hair removers, but you cannot escape increased growth because after each removal the hair is bound to grow out more bushily and in time it will become so coarse that nothing will remove it but a razor.

The only safe way to remove hair is to shave it off. It is safe to use pastes or rub-on preparations because they only remove hair from the surface of the skin. DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory, devalues hair by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to do its vitality. Remember, DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money if it fails. Insist on the genuine DeMiracle and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—return them.

DeMiracle is sold in 5¢, 10¢, and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, order direct from us. The name above the treatment of superfluous hair makes a sealed envelope on request. DeMiracle Chemical Company, Dept. B, Park Ave. and 129th St., New York. Advertisement.

PREDICTS FUTURE FOR GUATEMALA

Central American Editor States Prosperity Awaits United States Merchants.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Virginia Rodriguez Beteta, delegate to the Pan-American Financial Congress and the International Law Conference, delivered the third of the series of lectures on United States products in Central America and also traced up the way trade relations between the two countries are to be stimulated by the European war.

Beteta, who is editor of the "Diario de Centro-American," the largest newspaper in Guatemala, and one of the best-informed panel men in Central America, said in the course of his speech:

"There is no question about the immense impetus to be given to trade between the United States and Central America by the European war.

Get the word around of American salesmen in Central America and united possibilities await them. There are immense markets for flour, agricultural implements, coal oil, machinery, medicines, cotton goods, shoes and automobiles. The automobile industry in Central America is not in its infancy and the American agency already established there will do a tremendous business."

Beteta then spoke of the policy which should be pursued by American business in getting into Central America and the cheap mail method of transportation.

He also spoke of the splendid financial condition of Central America, and touched somewhat on the police the president uses in his dealings with our neighbors.

"Germany was our largest customer before the war, but now the Pacific coast leads." Beteta went further to state and this trade will be materially increased by the opening of the Panama canal."

INVALID DISAPPEARS ON HIS WAY TO HOME

The disappearance of Ralph Bell, a ranch hand who was recently brought to this city by his employer, H. J. Young, from the latter's ranch in Humboldt county, was reported to the police this morning. Bell came to this city to receive treatment for an affection of the leg, and is in a serious condition. Last night after visiting a friend in the downtown section, Bell was put on the car bound for home, but never appeared there. He has been staying with H. J. Young, 2316 Ninth avenue.

Dream of Convalescence will be the topic talked on by Allen D. Albert of Minneapolis, Minn. William Gettinger of New York City will read the report of the committee on resolutions, which will be followed by the reading of reports of special committees.

AFTERNOON EXERCISES.

A recess will be declared at 12:30 o'clock, when the Oakland Rotary Club members will be hosts at a luncheon to be served in a room adjoining the convention hall. The afternoon session will be resumed at 2 o'clock and will open with the report of the judges of election. The business session will close with a summing up of the work of the convention by the president-elect.

At 5 o'clock the board of directors and officers-elect will meet at dinner at the Hotel Oakland for the election of the executive committee, a secretary and editor, and to discuss the policy of the organization for the ensuing year.

The entertainment features are many. The women of the party will be guests at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakland at 12:30 o'clock. From 1 to 2 o'clock members of the party will be taken on automobile tours about the city, and shown the various points of interest. Oakland, Berkeley, Piedmont, Alameda, the University campus and other interesting places will be visited by the women who will go in cars as the guests of the members of the Oakland organization.

The local committee in charge of Oakland events announce that a large number of surprises have been planned for the entertainment of the visitors. The nature of the surprises will not be made known until they take place. It is estimated that more than 3,000 men and women will be in the visiting party.

UNITED RAILROADS TO APPEAL FIGHT IN CITY OWNERSHIP

State Supreme Court Will Be Asked Today to Restrain City.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—An appeal will be made to the Supreme Court today for a writ of prohibition restraining Superior Court from interfering with Judge Sturtevant's injunction preventing the city's cars to the exposition from running on lower Market street. Attorney William M. Cannon, a member of the United Railroads legal battalions, which has been fighting every inch of the way since the court decided in favor of the company, declared this morning that unless the unforeseen occurred the supreme tribunal would be appealed to today.

"According to our plans, we will ask for writ of prohibition directed against Judge Trout restraining him from making any stay or any suspension of Judge Sturtevant's injunction. We believe that we are in the right on this matter and we are not going to delay one moment longer than necessary. We are preparing our papers now and discussing all the phases of the situation. Unless something should happen to change our plans, we will be in the Supreme Court before night."

CITY HOLDS ADVANTAGE.

Ever since Judge Sturtevant decided that the municipal cars lettered C and D that the municipal cars lettered C and D and running to California street and Thirty-third avenue and to the Exposition respectively, had no right on the outer Market street tracks the city has had the best of the legal battle that has been put up.

The initial victory came yesterday afternoon, when the presiding judge granted the city's petition to stay the injunction, supplementing his written opinion with the assertion that he believed the stay should remain in effect until the United Railroads could get a ruling from the Supreme Court as to whether or not he himself had any right to make any order whatever in the case.

Since the day Mayor Ralph was served with Judge Sturtevant's injunction and obtained from that just a twenty-four-hour stay, the city has had all the best of the legal fight. The United Railroad officials say that their inaction is about to begin. They assert that Judge Trout's intervention has been unjustified and illegal and that their own position will be upheld by the highest state tribunal when the case is presented.

MESSENGER ARRESTED WITH MISSING AUTO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Thomas Ford, a 19-year-old messenger, was captured by Patrolmen O'Leary and Hogan at 11th and Fillmore streets this morning driving a five-passenger automobile alleged to have been stolen July 14 from Samuel Marx of 1132 Buchanan street. He was charged with grand larceny.

Bernice Lamar, Anita Hill and Fred Hill, Anita's husband, of 1097 McAllister street were booked at the Bush street station for grand larceny. The men, on completion of James McDonald, 1214 Stockton street, who said he was robbed of $60 in the Lamar woman's apartment. The police found $10 under some carpets in the hallway in front of the apartment occupied by the Hills, and claim to have seen Fred Hill place the balance on the mantis in Miss Lamar's room.

SUES FOR LANDS IN BEQUEST TO UNIVERSITY

Prof. John Fryer, for many years head of the Oriental language department at the University of California and at one time advisor to the former empress dowager, for whom he drew up many memorials, has commenced suit in the Superior Court against the heads of Alfred University, New York, to quiet title to lands included in a trust made to the university by his late wife.

The property in question is located in Claremont. It is alleged to have been community property and therefore not to be included in the bequest of Mrs. Fryer to the eastern institution.

Boothe C. Davis, president of Alfred University, and W. L. Burdick, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church at Alfred, trustees, are made defendants.

PLAN EDUCATION IN CITY OWNERSHIP

Purchase of Peoples Water Co. Considered by Utilities League.

With the appointment of a special committee of seven, the Public Utilities League of Alameda county at a meeting last night took the preliminary step toward the calling of an emergency meeting of a public utility district in formation of a public utility district Alameda county with the ultimate object of water power and its operation for the benefit of the east bay cities resulting under the provisions of the amended law adopted by the last legislature.

The committee, consisting of seven members, was appointed by President E. E. Magan on the motion of Belmont H. Miller. Magan's appointees are as follows: C. H. Miller, J. H. Rover, George F. Witter, F. S. Fox, W. F. Werum, C. C. Rutledge and Harold Everhart, former Oakland city councilman.

The duties of this committee, as outlined in Miller's motion, will be to ascertain the boundaries to be considered, the proposed public utility district, and to seek a sentiment in favor of the municipal ownership plan. The delegates present at last night's meeting voted to instruct the membership committee to work toward bringing every civic and similar organization in the county into the league's membership.

The finance committee was also instructed to do all that is possible to collect sufficient cash with which to carry on the work of the organization. Magan appointed Werum, Louis Schafer, John C. Coburn and E. A. Marsh as members of the finance committee. Three other members will be appointed at the next meeting, which is to be held on the first Tuesday evening in August.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

One of the big fights of the league members in the forthcoming campaign will be to educate public opinion with regard to public ownership of utilities. At the election of a year ago, a year ago when the formation of a water district under the provisions of the old law was submitted to a vote and defeated, the Public Utilities League, which is made up of accredited delegates from the various organizations of the county, worked in opposition to the plan.

"Now that we have the public utilities corporation in existence, it is up to us to undo the work which we did at that time," Everhart told those present last evening. "We must have a campaign of education. Speakers must appear before all of the improvement and other organizations of the county and explain all the vital points."

Two or three of the speakers dealt with the valuation set on the works of the water corporation by the state railroad commission.

"This valuation of $14,000,000 is certainly too high," declared Everhart, who is a vice president of the organization. "The entire plant is only worth $8,000,000 or $9,000,000. You'll notice, however, that the railroad commission in its report regarding the valuation is not fixed for a selling basis, but merely as a basis for the sale of bonds. There are many things which we must consider in this regard. The boundaries must be decided upon, the amount of land and other things wanted from the water corporation, named, and many other details. Let us get busy."

SEEKS VOTERS' OPINION.

"I disagree with you to this extent," Magan said in answer to Boyer. "The main point to be considered is whether or not public ownership of utilities is wanted by the people of the community. We find that out at an election. If the people vote for the formation of a district, let's let a board of trustees, we can trust those trustees to direct us to do the right things with regard to the details of purchasing the plant in whole or in part. Remember, we have a vote on the matter, and whatever the trustees decide upon must be ratified by a two-thirds vote."

"I want to say that the valuation placed on the plant and the terms of the purchase do not appeal to me. I never at any time favored the purchase of the Peoples Water company in toto. But something must be done within the next six months. It is up to the organization to protect the interests of the people of this county in this matter. The question as to how much is to be bought and so forth is of secondary importance right now. Let the directors of the district decide that. The big point right now is the formation of the district."

Miller and Boyer at this point spoke of the opposition which had been manifested in various sections at the election of a year and a half ago, saying that a strong educational campaign should be inaugurated to overcome this adverse feeling.

"It was because of the inequalities of the old law that much of this opposition arose," Miller said. "Yet it is a well-known fact that Niles and other sections in the eastern end of the county objected to the district because they claimed they would get little benefit from it in proportion to the money it would cost them in taxation. This is all a matter for a campaign of education. All of these people in each community affected, should be consulted in regard to their wishes in the matter. It is up to the organization to do this."

The question of finances was then discussed. Magan urged an active campaign for funds, saying that the organization depended little on the clubs which make up the membership for finances, but that the bulk of the organization's money would come from sympathizers who would make subscriptions. It was then voted to cancel all obligations for which dues were paid by several of the affiliated organizations, on the ground that the league had been inactive for several months.

Delegates to the meeting from the Downtown Property Owners' association were A. R. Derge, W. H. Henry and Fred Osgood.

DEADLY POLITICS.

Few if any positions within the gift of the municipal government are of as much importance to the health, life and well-being of the people of Oakland as that of city bacteriologist. Prior to July 1 this post was held by Dr. Pauline Nusbaumer, a scientist of great merit and wide distinction. Surgeon-General Rupert Blue, head of the United States public health service, with whom Dr. Nusbaumer worked during the memorable campaign against the bubonic plague in California, said of his Oakland colleague recently, "Dr. Nusbaumer is one of the most efficient, dependable and useful bacteriologists in this country. Her work is thorough, scientific, accurate and indicates intelligence of the highest character."

Physicians of this city have all learned to depend upon the investigations of Dr. Nusbaumer. She has made innumerable blood, serum and other tests, and her prompt, scientific work, coupled with that of the physicians, has been instrumental in saving hundreds of lives, and rescuing thousands of children from death from diphtheria and other malignant diseases. Dr. Nusbaumer's presence and activities in the office of city bacteriologist has been a source of comfort and protection to thousands of parents in this community and has relieved them from annoying anxiety and worry.

This eminent scientist, this vigilant guardian of public health, this protector of the little children of Oakland against the ravages of contagious diseases, was promptly and summarily removed from office upon the incoming of the present administration for no cause whatsoever, except that the post and the salary were needed as a reward for one of the administration supporters. A doctor, who is said to have no distinction and small experience as a bacteriologist, has been appointed in Dr. Nusbaumer's place. It seems to us that the one post which ought to be outside the ravages of barbarous politics is this one which has directly to do with the health and with the lives of our children.

SECRETARY GARRISON'S WISE DECISION.

Secretary of War Garrison has recently accepted the resignation of Lieutenant-Colonel Horney and Major Phillips of the ordnance department of the army. These officers were offered employment as ordnance experts by private corporations. When their resignations were first offered the Secretary of War called on the Attorney-General for an opinion as to whether an officer of the army has an inalienable right to resign in time of peace. We have not seen the Attorney-General's opinion, but evidently the Secretary of War believes that the officers have a right to resign, or, if they have not, that it is wise as a matter of public policy to accept their resignations under the circumstances. Secretary Garrison has accepted the resignations of the two officers in question on the sound theory that the safety of the nation may very well depend on the development of private gun and ammunition factories, the establishment of which should be encouraged rather than opposed.

It has long been a matter of regret to experts in military affairs and to students of our military conditions, who have a knowledge of the inadequate preparations for defense on the part of the United States, that the government arsenals and plants for the manufacture of ammunition and projectiles are wholly inadequate to supply a fighting army. Indeed, it has been stated by American officers several times recently that the Germans in some battles in the present war have fired as many projectiles in a single day as the ammunition factories in the United States, as they existed at the outbreak of the European war, could manufacture in a whole year. It was a well known fact that eight months ago the United States did not have enough ammunition to supply its coast defense artillery with shells to enable it to engage in more than eight or ten hours' active firing, providing all the guns were brought into use. A few persons who have given special attention to the subject are aware of the meagreness and inefficiency of our defenses. Every arm of the military organization is deficient in men, officers, arms and ammunition. The same general condition obtains in the navy. It has taken a year of persistent agitation on the part of those who believe that we ought to be adequately prepared to put this country into a state of defense in case of war, to force the authorities in Washington to give any kind of encouragement or thoughtful and intelligent consideration to the question of adequate national defense.

Secretary Garrison's decision to encourage the building up of private factories for the manufacture of munitions of war is a forward step and one which should be followed by further action of similar character. We all hope for peace and believe that we shall be able to maintain it, but in these disordered and uncertain times no man can tell what the future may bring now on the way to join her army. Warden Osborne's system is certainly favorable to original thinking.

The people of Oakland are under obligations to Senator Edward J. Tyrrell. He went to Sacramento yesterday and persuaded the committee of state politicians, who were charged with making the itinerary for the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the United States House of Representatives, to give due consideration to Oakland. Acting on The Tribune's suggestion that the brief visit, comprising but three or four hours of daylight, which it was proposed to assign as Oakland's portion of the Rivers and Harbors committee's time was much too brief, Mr. Tyrrell has succeeded in securing a stop for the committee of two nights and a day in Oakland. The Rivers and Harbors committee will be here the evening of July 26 until the morning of July 27.

28. Carefully considered plans, looking to their proper entertainment and the showing to them of Oakland's achievements and needs on the waterfront, should be perfected at once.

THE SCARCITY OF LABOR.

The labor disturbances among the employees of the Remington Arms Co., and other industrial plants which have developed within the last few days may have been fomented by adherents of the cause of the Teutonic allies in the present war. Samuel Comens, freely given to making charges, places the responsibility for the strike upon agents of the German government. This charge is denied in other quarters. But if it is true the trouble will spread to other munition-making plants and perhaps reduce for a while the output of the American factories and consequently the supplies of the entente allies.

But we think we can discern another cause for strikes at this time. It is the growing scarcity of labor. Early in the war it was predicted that if hostilities continued for any considerable time the supply of trained mechanics and unskilled labor in this country would be greatly reduced. The prediction became a certainty when Italy entered the conflict.

The European armies have called thousands of workers from the United States. A large portion of the returning workmen has been diverted into the arsenals and manufacturers of supplies. The remainder, mostly composed of unskilled laborers, have gone to the battle front. A ridiculously small percentage of America's foreign-born population is to be found on the farm. Practically all of it is working in the industrial plants, machine shops, on construction work. Naturally, therefore, the ranks of the laborers have been depleted by the return of European reservists.

On the other hand the demand for labor of all classes in a few manufacturing plants has grown to inordinate proportions through foreign orders for war supplies. Labor always moves for higher wages and better conditions when labor is dear.

The present troubles may be in obedience to the law of supply and demand. We trust this is so, for it is not agreeable to think that agitators in favor of a foreign cause might be able to disturb the industrial peace of this country when no questions of wages or local conditions are involved.

THANKFUL FOR INFORMATION.

Oakland's City Hall is adorned, among other embellishments, with two mural paintings, one of which represents a pioneer group and the other the work of the Spanish padres among the Indians.

Oakland's new mayor has announced his intention to have the Spanish mission scene obliterated, on the ground that the picture is not "typical of California history," and to have a representation of "Washington Crossing the Delaware" painted in the panel.

It would be interesting to students of history as well as practitioners of art if Mayor Davie would kindly designate the exact spot in California at which Washington crossed the Delaware.—The Examiner.

Such utterances as this are little short of treasonable. The editor of the Examiner will be fortunate if he is not shot at sunrise. Anyway we can promise him a "good cussing" when his honor the Mayor reads his cynical remarks. Moreover he is all wrong. We are informed that the panel which the Mayor finds offensive to his finely trained and richly cultured artistic sense is to be replaced with a typically local painting. It will be done by a local sign painter, who has been chartered by the day, as it were, to ply his rare and lovely art. The subject will not be Washington Crossing the Delaware, as the Examiner erroneously supposes. It will be "Dave Crossing the Estuary in a Three Thousand Dollar Automobile."

After spending a million dollars and more for a garbage crematory, San Francisco finds that it does not work satisfactorily and that the fumes from it are a nuisance. It is a curious fact that for all the effort made the country over for the disposal of garbage, it remains as great a problem as ever. While some of the crematories do the work tolerably well part of the time, none of them do it effectively all the time. Our own method of carrying the city refuse twenty miles to sea is a bit primitive and has been the subject of more or less dissatisfaction. It is nevertheless about as effective a way as has been developed of dealing with a problem as yet awaiting satisfactory solution.

A young woman who shot and killed a man in San Francisco, seemingly because she could not win him altogether from his wife, is reported serving in the chorus of one of the theaters across the bay. Previous to this the last heard of her was when she was arrested in a certain cafe raid in Los Angeles. She had gone down there directly after the trial to spend the rest of her life with her mother, she said. Such profound repentance is worthy of notice by the newspapers who glorified her act at the time.

Pretty much the whole world in one way or another seems to be appealing to the United States for charitable assistance and relief. Now comes China with the woeful tale of something like one hundred thousand lives lost in the floods near Canton. There will have to be a limit sometime to the generosity on the part of this country, but we must consider ourselves very fortunate to have been able to do as much as we have done and to still be able to make some substantial response to the cries of the afflicted.

Converting our United States coin into foreign currency is accompanied by a lot of confusion and figuring these days. The American dollar is worth $1.02 in English money, $1.09 in French, $1.17 in German, $1.18 in Italian, $1.33 in Russian, $1.34 in Austrian, $1.39 in Scandinavian and $1.04 in Swiss money; in Mexico, a basketful. It is the most desired piece of money in the whole world today.

Rocco Scalzo, inmate of Sing Sing and a member of Warden Thomas Mott Osborne's "honor squad," escaped three weeks ago. Now he has written back that it was the fascination of war that led him to take advantage of the privileges allowed him. Scalzo writes that he was of little service to the State of New York behind prison walls and felt he could be of more use to Italy and is, therefore, on the way to join her army. Warden Osborne's system is certainly favorable to original thinking.

Telegraphic reports state that Asiatic cholera has broken out in Galicia and is spreading with alarming rapidity. It is not the first time Russian armies of invasion have scattered this scourge in their wake. Modern warfare as it is practiced seems to sanction contagious diseases, gas bombs, the slaughter of women and children without warning, and other things.

The supreme military efficiency of the German nation is again being powerfully and vividly demonstrated by the operations of the German forces against the Russian army in Poland. History shows no such prodigies of organization, of transportation, of vigorous fighting and of strategy as Germany has exhibited within the last sixty days.

THE FRUIT FLY.

To the Editor: On page 15 of tonight's issue of the Oakland Tribune there is an article in column four entitled "State besieged by fruit fly" with many statements accredited to me as a member of the faculty of the university. These statements were evidently sent in by a student who got somewhat entangled in the matter of the fruit fly to the great fruit industry of this state so important that this report might lead to considerable injury and much anxiety upon the part of fruit growers. No imported fruit fly has become established in California. The insect referred to is a native insect which attacks currants and gooseberries about the bay and is not known in Imperial Valley as stated in the article. It is of little or no importance, but was referred to in the classroom merely as an example of the family to which the Mediterranean fruit fly and the melon maggot belong. Both of these insects are barred from our state by federal and state laws and there is one of the best corps of inspectors in the world at San Francisco and other ports open to foreign commerce in this state to enforce the laws. I am sure that the author of the article did not intend to cause injury and by one who did not realize the gravity of the situation which he was discussing.

Trusting that you will understand my position in thus addressing you and hoping that a correction may be made which will remove any doubts about the presence of the foreign fruit flies in California. E. O. ESSIG. Berkeley, July 20, 1915.

Liberty.

A hobo who perched on top of a coach of the Liberty Bell Special created some diversion among the thousands who saw him making faces and enjoining silence on the crowd lest he be pulled off and deprived of ride. The train pulled out with the hobo still there. He waved his hat in farewell. What can typify liberty and independence better than a hobo?—Stockton Independent.

Plague.

Some Cow.

Tulare boasts a cow twenty-three years of age, which still gives three and one-half gallons of milk a day. The cow belongs to Henry Bay, who has owned her since birth. Her last nine calves have all been helpers.—Hanford Sentinel.

Drummers Take Heart.

There will be no more spoiling in the dome of the court house. No more love in the skies, far above the maddening throng. The ruling has been made by the board of supervisors that the court house tower will be closed every day except between the hours of 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock. The janitor of the court house must act as chamberlain to the sightseeing parties which seek the tower. This proviso is included in the edict.—Fresno Herald.

Pussy-in-the-Corner.

Juan Rivera, the notorious leper, has died in Fresno, but the problem that his existence raised has not been solved. Some state law should govern the disposition of lepers, who should not be made a charge upon individual counties, which are almost certain to adopt slack methods in dealing with such individuals. A leper should not be run from one country to another. He should be confined and cared for by the state.—Visalia Times.

Announcement cards received through the mail yesterday outlined a wide circle of the acquaintance of Miss Esther Bentle of San Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bentle, to Stand, Powell & Powers, Los Angeles, several friends as both parties have been traveling together around the country. Both young people have been prominent in college circles at the University of Southern California, and the sister of Miss Katherine Bentle, Robert Bentle, Jr., and Walter Bentle, Mrs. Bentle, who is no longer a girl, married Miss Elizabeth Bentle, who has traveled along mineral hills she is also an outdoor enthusiast and plays a very good game at golf or tennis before attending the wedding. The Bentles' children, who have given up their studies to prepare for the wedding, the bride-elect traveled extensively and has taken part in the social activities in various parts of the country. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bentle is a young former Oaklander, who has resided in Berkeley for the past few years. He is the brother of Miss Estelle Bentle, who is engaged to Dr. Edwin Howell. Since graduating with the 1914 class he has been connected with a San Francisco firm. At college where he was a member of the Phi Delta fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place early this winter, all its arrangements being in the right hands much planning in the bride-elect's honor. The Bentles make their

◆◆◆ BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

Mrs. George T. Mann, wife of the American entrepreneur, who has been here during the summer, was hostess last evening at one of the quartet dinners that have been given during this exceptionally brilliant season in San Francisco. The caterer, an amateur clubman, numbered distinguished eastern visitors, who are identified with the older social life there who have migrated to the coast by the Exposition. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stotesbury, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brooks of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Crozier, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott, Joseph Redding, Edward Baldwin of New York, Herman Herkimer, the celebrated English portrait painter now residing in San Francisco, and a number of others.

◆◆◆ SETS DATE.

The date for the marriage of Miss Gwendolyn Woodward to James Hamilton Todd has been set by the young bride-elect for August 12. It is to be a house wedding and will be witnessed by many guests. The ceremony is to be read by Miss Woodward's grandfather, who is from Los Angeles for the occasion. The attendants are to be Miss Phillips Woodward, who will be her sister's maid of honor, and Benjamin Moore.

◆◆◆ CHOOSE YELLOW SCHEME.

Yellow in varying tones has been chosen as the color scheme for the Porter-Rose wedding that will be attended by several hundred guests this evening. Miss Mildred Porter, the namesake of the bride, is a slender, beautiful blonde, and although she herself will appear in conventional bridal white, the golden tone that is to predominate in decorations and in the room of the bride's parents will be carried by her in strikingly becoming setting. Yellow blossoms will be used in masses throughout the house, and Miss Marjorie Porter, sister of the bride-elect and maid of honor, will wear yellow over taffeta. The four bridesmaids are to be costumed in taffeta gowns of a paler shade. All five will carry yellow flowers.

Miss Porter's gown is of white satin and silk, fashioned in the queenly mode now in vogue, with abbreviated sleeves and an overskirt of scalloped satin revealing at the bottom triple pleated net ruffles. The lace-trimmed, embroidered bolero bodice will depend a short court train. A pretty feature is to be the clusters of orange blossoms caught at intervals in the train of the gown. A veil formed of lace around the face of the bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses will complete the effect.

Following the ceremony an hour after service, the bride and groom will leave and after a short reception will be held from 9 until 11 o'clock. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Porter, graduate of the University of California, and a member of the chapter of Kappa Gamma Gamma, one of the oldest and most exclusive of women's college societies.

Dr. Albert Rose is the son of Mrs. Charles Rose. During the coming year he will continue his studies in Boston.

◆◆◆ CLAREMONT COUNTRY CLUB.

An extended stay was sent out last night by the Claremont Country Club for a dance to be given there next Saturday evening, when a number of members who have been spending the holiday months out of town have returned to their homes. Especially interesting has been this year's summer session at the club, as visitors from all parts of the world who have come out to the Exposition have been finding private rooms. These visitors who are doing so well are the golf course and playing in the tennis courts declare that the Claremont club is one of the most delightful they know of for convenience and quietness. The roof garden has called forth special admiration. There will be many of these visitors at the dance at the end of the week, and a very gay affair is expected.

◆◆◆ GIVES MUSICALE.

Miss Mattie Wetherbee and Miss Lila Wetherbee, two charming girls from Boston, are the house guests of Mrs. Henry Wetherbee of Fruitvale. Their cousin, Lila Sutin, and Miss Winona Carruthers, an informal musicals in their honor, are inviting about thirty of her friends to meet them. Mr. Robert Lunger, the Boston man who has come to sing at the Exposition, and who has been enthusiastically received by musicians here, was also a guest of honor.

◆◆◆ INFORMAL DINNER.

In honor of Miss Beulah Ross of Boston, Mrs. Lucien C. Leander gave an informal dinner party last evening at her home in San Leandro. Today the hostess' mother and sister, Mrs. Henry Carruthers, and Miss Carruthers' daughter are residents of Boston and have been for some time the house guests of Mrs. Langworthy.

SHORTHAND FOR YOUNG WOMEN

A very attractive course in Shorthand and Typewriting is arranged for in the U.S. Shorthand Institute. The day classes are exclusively for young women.

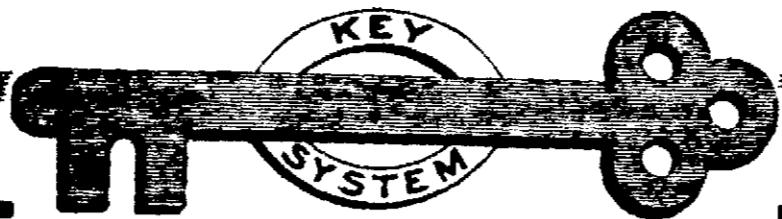

The highest development of these subjects is taught in small groups with straightforward, commonsense and simple methods that appeal to the mind and interest of the learner. The school, in its fifteen years of solid, substantial progress, has attracted the best class of young women who desire a wholesome, refined surrounding and the instruction of expert helpful teachers who are personally interested in the progress of the student.

The Pitman & Gregg systems of Shorthand are taught, and a very rapid and facile system of touch typewriting is imparted. The course also includes business correspondence, punctuation, commercial law, bookkeeping, and those matters of business knowledge that a businesswoman would care to have his daughter know.

The tuition rates are moderate. The Institute is located at 529 Twelfth street, elevator entrance, Blake Block, 1121 Washington street.

CLOSES HIS DOOR TO U.C. REPORTER

Professor Kelsey Intends to Keep Sociology Lectures for Classes Alone.

BERKELEY, July 21.—Displeased because an inkling of his radical views concerning modern marriage and the future state of society had occasioned the visit of a reporter from the student paper to interview him in regard to his views on restricting women's rate, Professor Kelsey, lecturer on sociology at the summer session, ordered all except duly registered students to stay out of his classrooms in future.

Professors were summoned to all the doors to whom he supplemented his order with a threat to sue for damages if they found the person who was responsible for the gossip about his course. There were present two persons who were left strong of persons, including several newspaper representatives, standing out in the hallway of California hall disappointed in their desire of hearing the lectures discontinued upon "Women's Rate" and "Liberality," the subject announced for today.

Interest has been aroused in Kelsey's courses on account of his ideas concerning women suffrage and marriage. He has advanced the theories that man should not be allowed to have complete power over his wife; that family life needs to limit families; that family life will be unknown in the society of the future, and that the restriction of the birth of children is to be the only feasible measure.

Kelsey's lectures have been reported exclusively in The Oakland Tribune during the last week.

The last open lecture of Professor Kelsey tomorrow will be the third of a series of lectures on marriage, divorce, and family life.

Professor Kelsey is professor of sociology in the University of Pennsylvania. His course at the University of California is entitled "The History of Social Institutions."

ROOSEVELT TO BE WHEELER'S GUEST

BERKELEY, July 21.—Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt will be the guest of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the university, who returned this morning from his vacation trip on the McCloud river to make preparations for the entertainment of his distinguished guest. Roosevelt's purpose on his present visit to the coast is to attend the meetings of the American Historical congress in San Francisco.

All efforts to induce the Colonel to make a public address in Berkeley have failed much to the disappointment of the 5000 students of the summer session who had anticipated an opportunity of hearing him ever since the news of his coming to the city became known. Roosevelt has also declined to appear on the platform before the convention of historians at the exposition.

NURSE AND ALAMEDA MAN GET LICENSE

ALAMEDA, July 21.—Without even taking their parents or relatives into their secret, Miss Hazel E. McCos and Arthur S. Laurence Mulvane yesterday went to San Jose, took out a marriage license, and admitted the ages of 20 years. No one has been received of the nuptials in the garden city.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Charles McCoy of 1835 East Eighteenth street, Oakland, is a nurse and graduated about two years ago from the Alameda Sanitarium. She has a brother in the home and her mother was surprised when she was told of the issuance of the license.

Mulvane is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mulvane Sr., of 1812 Encinal avenue. He is a pupil of the Alameda High School. His parents are also kept in the dark as to the wedding plans.

FERRY ALAMEDA IS ON OAKLAND RUN

ALAMEDA, July 21.—For the first time the new Ferry boat will run between the residents of the city and those deprived of the steamer Alameda of the Southern Pacific company, which has operated between the Alameda pier and San Francisco. Alameda passengers paid 25 cents for a new steer, which is the latest on the bay and the best-equipped of the Southern Pacific carriers.

But now the officials of the company have decided to build a small boat to run between Oakland and San Francisco. The new arrangement started today. The Alameda, the new Santa Clara and the Newark will run from Colma and Piedmont in the transbay service for years, will be operated between Alameda and San Francisco.

EDWIN MARKHAM, POET AND LECTURER, TO SPEAK

BERKELEY, July 21.—Edwin Markham, poet and lecturer on social problems, will give a reading of some of his poems tomorrow evening in Hearst hall, before an audience of summer session students. The program of readings has not been announced.

Markham talked briefly of war and literature yesterday, saying that war would paralyze literature as it had paralyzed all things of human worth, except the sake of justice. After the war, he predicts a great revival of literary spirit and the birth of a greater vision and the final realization of the ideal of a United States of the world.

ALAMEDANS PLAN TO COMSTOCK BATHERS

ALAMEDA, July 21.—Swimmers who go about the shores of San Leandro bay, near the homes of local residents, and who are dressed too near to mere nature's garb, will meet the stern hand of the law, if they do not change their ways. The town council has complained to the city council, and Councilman H. Walker has directed the police to prevent future occurrences of the kind reported by the residents. Many of the bathers come from Oakland and are without bathing suits.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KING.

ALAMEDA, July 21.—Mrs. Katherine King was laid to her final rest after a solemn requiem high mass, which was solemnized yesterday at St. Peter's Catholic church by Rev. Father Doyle. The services were attended by many of the friends and co-workers of the noble woman who gave a large part of her life to the welfare of the poor and the girls. Officers of the different organizations with which she had been connected grand officers and directors of the Catholic Ladies Aid of which she was a past director and the St. Margaret's club, with members of the Travelers' Aid, were in attendance.

RECEPTION TO NEWLYWEDS.

FRUITVALE, July 21.—A reception will be given to Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Rhoda, who were married at Chatsfield, N.Y., July 12. The couple spent part of their honeymoon in Los Angeles, where they were here to attend the nests of Mr. Rhoda, where the groom is engaged in mining. Before the wedding the bride was Miss Estelle Flynn of Miller, Nev. An invitation to the reception has been issued to all the friends of the family in their district.

O'BRIEN HELD FOR BURGLARY TRIAL

NO PURCHASING AGENT IS WANTED BY COUNCIL

Alameda Legislators Vote Down Plan; Reconsideration on Program

ALAMEDA, July 21.—An ordinance creating the office of purchasing agent for the city met defeat last night at the meeting of the city council, but Councilman Heuer, father of the measure, gave notice of re-consideration at the next session. He said that he will prepare data showing that a purchasing agent will save the city a large sum of money.

The proposed ordinance provided that the agent be paid a salary of $100 a month and have control of the purchasing for all departments, with the exception of the schools. Councilman Heuer moved the adoption of the measure, seconded by Mrs. Ingersoll, whose husband O'Brien, who did not take the stand, said he had entered his room in the Highland hotel, 1549 Park street, conducted by his mother, Mrs. Hunt of Napa, testified against O'Brien.

Heuer acknowledged that he had prepared a new sewer to be used in the Highland hotel.

Mrs. Furey declared that O'Brien had confessed the theft to her and stated that she had not prosecuted him because she wanted to give him time to make restitution.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, friends of O'Brien, asserted that he had given Mrs. Hunt jewelry claimed by Mrs. Ingersoll as her own.

O'Brien, when arrested, asserted that he had tried to force himself to wed Mrs. Ingersoll, after the latter had been given him the jewels to obtain money on and that he had given her $10 out of his own pocket.

The vote resulted as follows:

Ayes—Councilman Heuer, Morris and Stewart.

Noes—Councilmen Hammond, Walker and Wilkins.

Excused—Councilmen Roth and Bullock.

Absent—Councilman Probst.

CONTRACTS FILED.

The contract with William Dufour, for the repairing of the city hall tower, and the contract with Tibbitt's Pacific company for the construction of a new fire station, were placed on file.

The Alaska Packers' association, according to Councilman Hammond, has contributed over $400 toward this improvement.

Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frobach reported that the sewer in Fullmore street has been satisfactorily installed by W. M. Whitmore.

Councilman F. B. Bullock reported that the city can only insure with the state in the matter of compensation for employees who are injured on the job.

He sleeps in a room over the fire apparatus, and while sleeping, considers himself a dead weight, subject to call. He often stays on the job all the time and therefore there has been no man who would stay on the job all the time and therefore there has been no uniform.

The uniform, which is said to be particularly attractive, is urged by Trustee R. F. Daniels as a reason why Albany should not accept the recent invitation to become annexed to Berkeley. Daniels said he would accept the invitation if the town trustees in ordering a tailor to measure Thomas McCourtney, McCourtney's holder of all of these jobs.

For twenty-four hours a day the responsibilities as city jailor rests upon the city jailer, who is called upon to leave the castle to answer a call as fire marshal, fire chief of fire department, or all of these together. "We can't afford to send our nice new fire department into a dry city. It is difficult enough to extinguish a blaze in a wet city. Besides, think what a headache it would be if after a strenuous fight with a fire, it couldn't get a drink."

ALPHA XI DELTA CONVENTION OPENS

BERKELEY, July 21.—At a dinner and masquerade last evening at the Twentieth Century club house in this city there opened for the 150 delegates to the annual convention of Alpha Xi Delta society a round of social events which will conclude Saturday with luncheon at the California building at the exposition. During the week there will be boat rides, dinners, receptions and a banquet at the Hotel Oakland.

Poundmaster Grant Hicks was granted his annual vacation of two weeks, to start August 1.

L. Poundmaster and company agreed to keep many of the principal streets of the city open for a month.

Upon the motion of Councilman Hammon all easements for the north side were accepted.

Councilman Heuer reported that arrangements had been completed whereby the California Girls' Training Home is to keep its home at the exposition at the cheapest rate offered by the city.

Owing to present financial conditions the city council last night indefinitely postponed ordering a new sewer placed in Chestnut street from Alameda to Sibley avenue. A majority protest was filed by property owners and a large number were present last evening to give verbal objection. Councilman Hammon Jr. moved the indefinite postponement and Councilman J. H. Walker seconded the motion.

Those who objected to a new sewer, claiming it is not necessary at the present time, were Mrs. R. H. Maxwell and Misses De Berna, Johnson and Howlett.

Today afternoon the college women will enjoy a reception at the Hotel Oakland, 2531 Telegraph street.

Misses A. B. Howe, Miss Ruth Calden and Misses Marion Evans, Ruth Cromer, Charlotte Hurd, Olive Johnson and Geneva Tooley are among those who will be the hosts.

Today will be a busy day for the important sessions of a legislative nature are expected to be held in morning and afternoon.

Upon the convention's decision to rest the government girls will be invited to the annual convention of Alpha Xi Delta chapter list.

The election of officers will also take place on Friday.

In the evening, as a sort of farewell, will be the large banquet at the Hotel Oakland.

Guests now in the bay cities will be present and the many other sorority members now in the bay cities will be present.

BATES BOOSTERS BACK TO EDEN

Two Admitted Humorists Adress Commercial Organization.

George Frost and Fred W. Schaeffer, members of national known as "Bates Boosters" at the Oakland Commercial Club, spoke yesterday. Schaeffer spoke much when he was introduced to the club, and, in return, Finch patted him on the back, speaking on Commercial Club.

After the first band boom started,

ATTORNEYS MEET IN FIGHT IN STREET

T. L. Christiansen Is Severely Beaten by Henry E. Skinner

Taking exception to remarks made to bartenders to an attorney from the city hall where the latter could be admitted, Attorney Henry E. Skinner administered a blow to Christiansen, who was serving with him in court yesterday. It is the second in a series of attacks on a charge of malpractice.

His opponent jumped into his automobile accompanied by J. E. Lanctree and Attorney M. L. Tamm. Those on the sidewalk cheered as the party drove away. Christiansen vowed that he would swear to a witness such as he had in the opportunity.

The trouble had its inception a week ago when Attorney Christiansen became interested in a guardianship matter being handled by Attorneys Johnson & Murphy, etc. Henry E. Skinner.

When the hearing came up before Superior Judge Wells today Attorney Skinner intimated in court that he did not desire to remain in the case except to see that the client was fully protected and further he expressed a doubt as to the efficiency of Attorney Christiansen in protecting the rights of the minor in the case.

"Anybody get a police whistle? Give me a police whistle, somebody?" shouted Christiansen.

"Go get a telephone," someone suggested.

"Wait here until you get a policeman," volunteered Attorney Skinner.

"Consider the case of the former Mrs. Sullivan and Broadway when the fight started. The former declared that the other attorney had called him a "crook."

FLOOD HALTS IRRIGATION.

MERCED, July 21.—Softened by excessive rainfall a part of the main canal of the Crocker-Huffman irrigation system washed away near the main headgate last night. It had been repaired from a similar washout in the same place two days before. One of the Hopeton roads is impassable from the flooding.

Finally Attorney Peter J. Crosby volunteered the services of his automobile as a patrol wagon and invited the company prospects. They sold their houses at a bargain and moved away, coming to California. They were hasty, did not wait for the time to go to the country side some of the folks did.

"I went away from the town and did not return for fifteen years. Then I noticed that there were paved streets instead of muddy roads. The hitching posts had been done away with. The depot was a neat building. There were electricians instead of the busses. The cemetery wasn't the only place that had a lawn and flowers. The girls were very respectful, stopped them. I asked a man to stand by the change, and he replied, 'Our Commercial club.'

"They had found themselves, with their commercial club they had rebuilt the town. Within the past ten years there has been going on a great business competition between California and the rest of the United States. Competition has brought up the Commercial club. You in California have educated us in Illinois. We can't afford to let you go and spend what we learned to our Commercial club. Now you have to show us one more wrinkle. When we learn that wrinkle, you will have to have another one in order to keep up the competition."

Schaeffer told of the noted humorists who will be here in convention soon. Finch helped applaud him.

Landmark Burned to Ground in Night

Shack Which Once Housed Trustee Destroyed

BERKELEY, July 21.—The last marker of the old Brackett estate in Berkeley was destroyed by fire last night when the three-room shack at Sacramento and Virginia streets burned to the ground. The building was used by J. G. Brackett, one-time trustee of the town of Berkeley, as a home after his immense residence was burned over a score of years ago.

Brackett was one of the first residents of Berkeley. His large house was one of the first pretentious ones in the city and was for a long time a show place. When it burned Brackett erected the small place out of what was left of the wreckage, and for a time made his home there. Later the place was used as a dairy and for some time has been vacant. It was owned by Miss Dena Bodovitch. Peris was an Austrian and owned large property interests about Butte.

The tragedy took place on the road to Divide, when Peris, after kissing his girl-bride good-bye, took Mrs. Sullivan to the courthouse in his automobile so that they could settle their affairs with him and enable him and his newly married wife to live together unchanged.

The tragedy was discovered by Walter Foester of Butte, who was going in his automobile fishing in the Big Hole river. As he approached the scene he saw Mrs. Sullivan lying on the ground attempting to attract his attention by waving a handkerchief from a propped up position. As

SHOOTS AFFINITY; TAKES OWN LIFE

Kissing Girl Bride Good-Bye, Butte Man Seeks Her Rival

After returning from Oakland to Butte on learning that her common husband had wedded again, being shut in the quarrel followed and reviving of a serious dispute in Butte hospital, Mrs. Olive Sullivan, Oakland woman, has already started plans for a will contest that will be unique in the annals of legal contests. She will be aligned against the bride and the widow of George Peris, who killed himself after shooting Mrs. Sullivan. The estate for which the two women are to fight is valued at $50,000.

The shooting is the culmination of a remarkable romance of four years. Peris, a wealthy saloonkeeper, had lived with Mrs. Sullivan, promised to marry her when her divorce proceedings were over, but finally married Miss Dena Bodovitch. Peris was an Austrian and owned large property interests about Butte.

The tragedy was discovered by Walter Foester of Butte, who was going in his automobile fishing in the Big Hole river. As he approached the scene he saw Mrs. Sullivan lying on the ground attempting to attract his attention by waving a handkerchief from a propped up position. As he drew closer he saw the dead body of the man on the opposite side of the road and closer to the car, which was headed toward Butte. He immediately lifted the woman into his machine and brought her with all speed to Butte, notifying the authorities of the affair.

The woman's version of the happening could not be learned, as she was received at the hospital in a weakened condition and was scarcely able to talk.

Mrs. Sullivan is believed to have arrived in Butte from Oakland after learning of the marriage of Peris to Miss Bodovitch. She was seen by acquaintances in the restaurant and saloon owned by Peris in the Wolf Tone block on East Park street shortly after she had been to many cases of reckless driving because of intoxication," said Judge Samuels. "You had four passengers in your automobile, and you ran into a trolley pole, endangering the lives. You not only endanger your life and those of your passengers, but the lives of others in the street."

CHARRED BODY FOUND: OFFICERS INVESTIGATE

HOLLISTER, July 21.—The charred remains of James Carroll, taken from the ruins of his burned cabin on the Silver creek road to Mendota, fifty miles south of here, were brought to Hollister last night by Coroner Reimer.

No verdict will be returned until the district attorney has investigated the circumstances which point strongly toward foul play.

Carroll lived in a lonely place. His wife, from whom he was recently separated, was his secret neighbor. It was she who discovered the cabin in flames about a clock last night and summoned neighbors.

AGED MAN KILLED BY TRAIN NEAR REDDING

REDDING, July 21.—William E. Knight of Tower House was killed on the track near Middle Creek, four miles north of Redding. He was walking north toward the train, which came around a curve and hit him. Knight was hard of hearing. The engineer sounded the whistle, but Knight did not hear. His eyes were cast down and he did not see. Knight was aged 70. He was employed at Tower House by Mrs. W. B. Carter.

NEWS OF SAN JOSE

What Busy Santa Clara Valley Is Doing

MERCHANT AND LAWYER CHARGED

Clerk Says He Paid $2000 for Immunity From Prosecution.

SAN JOSE, July 21.—Investigation was started today of the statement of John Rose, 245 Race street, dry goods clerk, that he paid $2000 in savings for twelve years to Joseph Steinling, a local merchant, and W. H. Beggs, a prominent San Jose attorney, for immunity from prosecution on charges of stealing systematically from Steinling. He declares that he drew the money out of the First National Bank and the Bank of San Jose to pay the two men yesterday.

Steinling accepted $2000 as reimbursement for money stolen by Rose but denies that there was any promise that charge would be dropped.

Investigation was started by Acting Chief of Police D. W. Campbell who has laid the clerk's story before District Attorney A. M. Free. He then appeared before Justice Wallace and obtained a warrant charging Rose with petty larceny. Campbell declares that he will have the whole matter thoroughly sifted.

BIDS REJECTED, AND COUNTY PROBE PLANNED

SAN JOSE, July 21.—Fruitless efforts by the Santa Clara county Board of Supervisors to obtain competitive bidding on 50,000 barrels of cement for road purposes have led the officials to the belief that the price is fixed in advance by "the cement trust." For the second time all bids have been turned down and District Attorney A. M. Fee has been called in to investigate the possibility of bid being given into the open market under extreme conditions and making the purchase. They state that they will be able to buy at a material saving if there is a loophole in the law. In the meantime the good roads program of the board is being held up.

COMMITTEE HEARS PLANS.

SAN JOSE, July 21.—The feasibility of a bridge across Santa Clara and Mountain View in widening and dredging the channel into the port at Sunnyvale on the south in order that water transportation might be available to all fruit and hay shippers, is being investigated today by a special committee named by the Sunnyvale town board. Preliminary surveys indicate that $5000 will take care of necessary dredging operations.

I used to hunt the inner gladness of smoking with cigarettes, pipe, domestic and part-Havana cigars.

A promising shadow of taste I got from the domestic cigar, friendliness I found in a pipe, the sweet, smooth draw of the cigarette pleased me—but none offered the deep, rich pleasure which I knew must somewhere be.

My friend, I have not the command of language which will let me tell you how at last my hunt ended.

But as large dogs catch the hare, so there is a cigar which will disclose to you smoking's ending note.

PROBATION DENIED AS WARNING TO OTHERS

SAN JOSE, July 21.—G. W. Haffner a young married man formerly in the employ of the Santa Clara valley mill and lumber company was taken to San Quentin state prison today to commence serving a one-year term for embezzlement. In denying Haffner's plea for probation Superior Judge W. A. Beasley stated that his case would have to serve a warning to other young men of San Jose. "I dislike to sentence you," the court remarked, "but I feel that there is too much lax feeling about this matter among the young men of San Jose. Haffner came to this city from Seattle several years ago. He was a trusted employee at the lumber company and it was not discovered that he was an embezzler until two months ago after he had resigned and left for the east. He was arrested at Sioux Falls, S. D. When brought back to San Jose he pleaded guilty."

PROBE MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF RANCHMAN

SAN JOSE, July 21.—District Attorney of San Benito county today instituted an investigation into the mysterious death of James Carroll, a rancher in his lonely home on the Silver Creek road to Mendota, 50 miles south of Hollister. The house was destroyed by fire and the body, charred almost beyond recognition, was found by Carroll's wife from whom he had been recently separated. Mrs. Carroll also lived alone in the mountains and was her husband's nearest neighbor. The body was brought to Hollister last night by Coroner Reimer.

TOO MUCHEE LAW; TOO MANY TAX! CHINESE MOVE FROM NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 21.—There has been a great exodus from Chinatown lately, and if it keeps up there will be nothing for sightseers on the rubberneck wagons to see but "To Let" signs. The reason for the get-away is explained by a Chinese who moved away.

"Too muchee law," said he. "Law here, law there. Law says no play cards. Law says no opium. Law says no sell vegetables without maker netting on 'em to keep off flies. Law says too d—d muchee."

The Chinamen are forming a new colony over in Jersey City, alongside the Pennsylvania station. The police estimate that more than 2000 have migrated in the last four months. A trip through the district tends to verify this. Everywhere are signs of stagnation.

There are many to-let signs in Motto and Bell streets, and some places which were formerly occupied by Chinamen are now in the hands of another race, chiefly Indians. In fact, half the population of Chinatown is now Italian.

FEW SHIPS SENT TO BRITISH PRIZE COURT

LONDON, July 21.—From June 1st to June 30th, twelve ships, of which one was American, were taken into Kurskay by British patrols. Of these only a portion of the cargo of each ship was ordered discharged for adjudication.

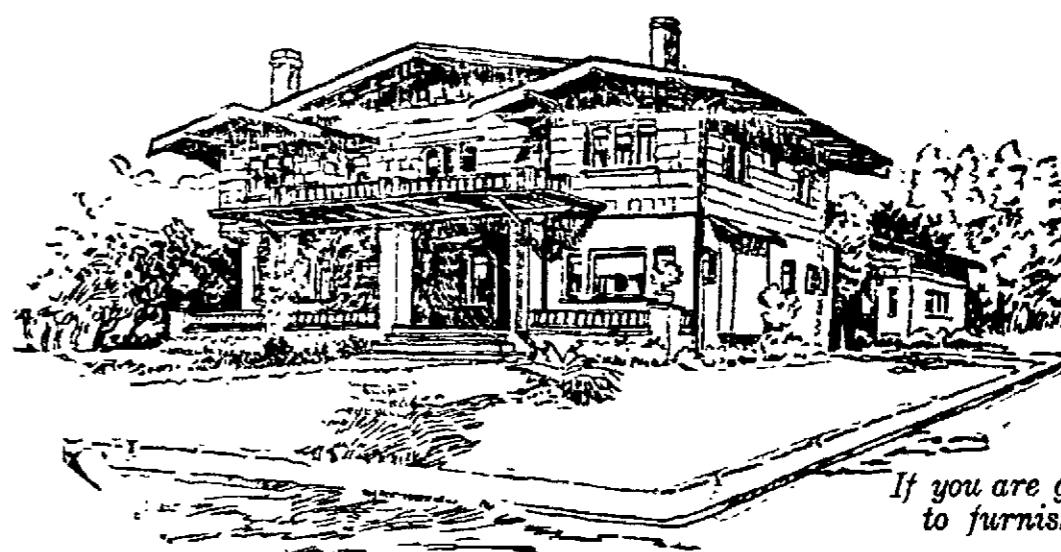

There were 1000 packages in the prize court. The figures for July are not yet available, but unofficial records show a steady diminution in the number of seizures.

Pays Ten Thousand Dollars to Ease a Troubled Conscience

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 21.—Ten thousand dollars in currency, the second largest contribution to the "conscience fund" ever received by the government, arrived at the Treasury Department in a plain envelope, mailed yesterday at New York accompanied by an unsigned letter, saying:

"The sender has paid double to the United States the amount he stole and still conscience is not satisfied. Here is another payment."

Treasury officials found nothing in the letter or envelope to indicate a connection with any of the government's losses by fraud or theft, so they placed with it $10,000 more which has accumulated in the treasury vaults from conscience-stricken folk who have sent sums ranging from one cent to $15,669. The largest sum ever received came in 1903. The $10,000 package today came addressed to Secretary McAdoo and was marked "personal."

Progress

Fifty years ago, Potter's Gardens were located at the junction Fourteenth, Broadway and San Pablo avenue. Today, on the same corner stands the building of the First National Bank, symbolical of the city's strength and progressive energy.

This Bank's progress reflects the city's progress: its activities are built into the city's business life. The Bank affords complete and efficient service to all who entrust to it their banking and exchange business.

You are invited to investigate the Bank's services and to call in regard to any business in which the Bank can serve you.

PORCH BUILDING

A good job needs good lumber because the porch has to stand tremendous wear and tear in addition to being subjected to the elements. Most of the best contractors and carpenters use our lumber because they know it gives satisfaction. Let us supply you, too.
